

Medina County Drenched By Rains

Rainfall Amounts To 2.09 Inches At Hondo

An additional 1.02 inches of rain was added to the 1.07 inches of rain received in Hondo during the week Thursday, as rains hit Medina County. The inches fell from 7 a.m. to 10 a.m., when it was still raining.

The largest amount of rainfall recorded in the county was at Groville, where from two to one-half inches fell. The rains turned to small streams during the Monday rains.

The total amount of rainfall for the county was at Groville, where from two to one-half inches fell. The rains turned to small streams during the Monday rains.

Owl FFA Initiates 24 Boys

The Hondo FFA Chapter was stronger by 24 members Tuesday, Oct. 9, following the Initiation of vocational agriculture boys Monday night at the regular monthly FFA meeting. These boys were awarded the first degree in FFA work, that of Green-hand.

Following the formal initiation ceremonies in the Chapter Meeting Room, there were eight side degrees presented in the Shop. The entire Vocational Agriculture One joined the FFA Chapter this year.

The three other degrees in FFA work await those boys who so develop their farming and leadership training that they can meet the qualifications of each degree. The highest degree, that of American Farmer, can be awarded to only one boy out of each 1,000 FFA boys. Hondo has had four former students win this high award.

The following Vocational Agriculture One students were received into the Hondo Chapter Monday night:

Auxiliary To Send Delegates

The LaCoste Ladies Auxiliary met for their regular meeting last Friday night, with senior vice-president, Mrs. Charles R. Bauerlein presiding.

The group collected a donation, which will be sent to the children at the VFW National Home.

Mrs. Bauerlein, who is also District 11 president, and Marvin Franger, District 11 Commander, will attend the District 11 convention at Uvalde this Sunday.

The program will begin with registration from 2 - 2:45 p.m., when the group will attend an open meeting. A Memorial Service is planned for 3:45 - 4 p.m., followed by closed meetings until 6 p.m., when a supper and other entertainment is planned.

Bill Cole, department commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars for Texas, will be the featured speaker at the meeting.

Meeting Held At Bandera

(Editor's Note: This story appeared in the Bandera Bulletin last week. We present it for your information and thought.)

A large group of ranchmen, farmers, and businessmen from over the county, met at the court house Monday afternoon to hear pertinent information and discuss the proposed designation by the Board of Water Engineers of an underground water reservoir.

Glendon Roberts, Bandera attorney and chairman of a recently appointed committee by the Commissioners' Court, called the meeting at 3 p.m. Joe W. Hawley was unanimously elected as secretary for the advisory committee made up of the citizens present.

Roberts' committee is composed of C. A. Ritcheson of Bandera, Jack Focke of Privilege Creek, Edward Johnson of Pipe Creek, C. E. Thomas of Vanderpool, Earl Weed and Allie Allsup of Medina. All the men present at the meeting are members of the advisory committee.

Judge A. V. Pue and members of the Commissioners' Court in session Monday, recessed to attend the meeting.

Roberts explained the purpose of the meeting, that is the designation of the proposed underground water reservoir, and told of the hearing set by the board of water engineers for Nov. 8, at the Municipal Auditorium in San Antonio. He told that the formation of this district would include fifteen counties, or portions of the following counties: Atascosa, Bandera, Bexar, Blanco, Comal, Edwards, Gillespie, Guadalupe, Kendall, Kerr, Kinney, Hayes, Medina, Real and Uvalde.

Roberts requested all present if possible to attend the San Antonio meeting. He said, "The first step is to designate an underground water reservoir, at this meeting with the people of this county present. After this the Board of Engineers will designate the boundaries of such a reservoir, then the time for such a hearing will be set to create the underground water district. Counties must have representation at this meeting to give reason to go into the district or not go into the district. Then the district may call an election to create such a district. Each county has a separate vote as to whether they shall go into the district or not. If we do not want to go into the district, each county will vote separately. The alarming thing to us is the re-charge to the Edwards lime which furnishes water to San Antonio. A bond issue will be voted to build dams and reservoirs along our streams."

The question was asked, "What would be the benefits of going into this water district?" Roberts said, "Personally, I do not think it would benefit us too much."

Allsup, who is familiar with the many phases of the proposed water reservoir plan spoke at length on the formation of such a district. After meeting with the Water Committees in meetings at New Braunfels, where he was accompanied by County Agent Werner Lindig, and also a meeting in Uvalde where he was accompanied by Earl Weed, Allsup told of the many things which he had learned from engineers concerning Bandera's status in the district. "The formation of the 15 county district would be a stupendous project," he said. "Building series of dams on the Nueces, Hondo, Medina, Frio and other streams; the recharging of the Glenrose would be so slow that it would not be much benefit. Most of Bandera county is situated in the Glenrose formation. The Medina loses water wherever the Edwards lime crops out. To build dams on the river would not do us much good. The Guadalupe is the only river in this area that does not lose water, most of the streams in this area lose water."

The proposal of 50 cents per $100 ad valorem, high taxes and controls could not be much benefit to our county," Allsup said.

Of County Farm Bureau

Hardt New Prexy

Calvin Hardt, Yancey resident, has been elected president of the Medina County Farm Bureau, following the county convention held at Hondo Monday night.

Other officers elected during the meeting were Alvin Balzen, first vice-president, and Floyd Neuman, second vice-president.

Directors elected for the coming year, besides Hardt, Neuman and Balzen, include Olan Karm, D. H. Hunter, Richard Saathoff, Herbert E. Wurzbach, A. R. Freeman and Louis Boehle. Mrs. Alvin Balzen was reelected secretary-treasurer of the group and Hardt, Freeman, Jerry Howard, Mary Howard, D. B. Carl and Neuman were delegates to the state Farm Bureau convention set for Houston Nov. 12-15. Alternates will be Frank Silvey, M. R. Garrison and A. O. Gilliam.

Judge Arthur Rothe presented appreciation gifts to Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Blinka for the fine work they have done for the Farm Bureau. Blinka recently resigned as service agent to accept a job with the Medina County Sheriff's Department.

During the meeting, which was held in the Hondo Elementary School auditorium, 17 resolutions were passed. They were titled, bounty on predatory animals, surplus commodity aid for Medina County, state aid for predatory animal control, trucking charges for cattle hauling, regulation of auction rings, products by penal institutions.

Insecticide law, feed control laws, farm trailer licensing law, right to work law, live stock disease control program, Edwards Lime Underground Water Recharge District, financing water development and conservation program and reappointment of legislators' districts.

The Edwards resolution stated, "We recommend that the Texas Farm Bureau maintain a close watch over legislation for the formation of any regional underground water recharge and conservation district, to see that control of such district is not concentrated in one or more urban areas, and that the burden of financing such a program is not placed upon the property owner alone."

Car Accident Leaves $1,250 In Damages

A three-car collision last Saturday left an estimated $1,250 worth of damage but no serious injuries, according to the Medina County Sheriff's Department.

Claude White, 26 year-old Los Angeles, Calif. man, received $200 damages to his car when he rammed the back of a vehicle driven by John Foster Pettit, 16, of Del Rio. Pettit had stopped behind a 1954 Chevrolet driven by Geraldine E. Chapman, 15, Hondo, who was turning left from Highway 90 into Nester's Super Market.

White's 1955 Ford caused Pettit's car Miss Chapman, and caused an estimated $1,000 damage to his 1956 Plymouth. The Chapman car received an estimated $50 damage.

County Court Finds Three Men Guilty

County Court was held last week, with three cases losing and one driving while intoxicated case won by the defendant.

Jesus Luna, charged with aggravated assault, was found guilty and assessed a fine of $5. Number of the case was 3249, and it was filed Feb. 23, 1956.

William Hy McNutt and Amadeo C. Ramirez were both convicted on DWI cases and fined $100 each plus three days in county jail.

The lone winning case was a DWI charge against Edward Finger. It was filed Sept. 4 of this year. The Court met Oct. 8.

Grain Sorghum Hybrids Raises Yields In Drouth-Stricken Areas

Grain sorghum hybrids produced 10 to 25 per cent more grain per acre than pure varieties in 155 field demonstrations in 1956 from the Lower Rio Grande Valley to the Panhandle.

The farmer demonstrators cooperated with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Texas Agricultural Experiment Station to obtain information on the performance of grain sorghum hybrids under a wide range of growing conditions and how the grain combines.

Twenty-five thousand pounds of seed were furnished for the demonstrations by certified seed growing from their crossing blocks of 1955.

Seed of sorghum hybrids were developed and released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in 1954 for increased production in 1955.

"Two types of demonstrations were conducted," Ben Spears, extension agronomist who headed up the test, said. "The 'package type' included packets of seed of several different hybrids and pure varieties which county agricultural agents distributed to farmers. Both hybrids and pure varieties were grown under the same conditions and harvested by hand to compare yields."

The second type, field demonstrations, was conducted on larger acreages under farmer's growing conditions and the grain was combined.

In general, Texas 610 appeared to have the widest range of adaptation, Spears pointed out. However, where soil moisture conditions were favorable at harvest several farmers reported Texas 610 was slower in drying than Martin, the most widely planted variety in Texas. In most demonstrations farmers reported also that Texas 610 was as satisfactory as Martin for combining.

In Central Texas, McLennan County Agricultural Agent Edwin N. McKay said, "In our demonstration hybrids outyielded pure varieties. Texas 660 was definitely the best performer."

Soil moisture conditions were poor in most of the McLennan County demonstrations, and for the State as a whole hybrids gave a better comparative performance under inadequate soil moisture conditions than pure varieties.

In an irrigated demonstration in Central Texas Walter Manske of Route 1, McGregor, harvested 1,480 pounds of Texas 610 an acre compared with 990 pounds of Martin.

Manske commented, Texas 610 was more difficult to combine than Martin as the moisture content was higher at the time of combining. Also 610 had a chaff disagreeable to the combine operator.

He was the only farmer who reported a disagreeable chaff.

All hybrids were considered early — time from planting date to blooming stage compared with late varieties such as Plainsman and Caprock which require 70 days or more.

"It's well to point out that under extreme drouth conditions mid-season maturing type hybrids such as Texas 650 in several fields produced less grain than an early variety such as Combine 7078," said Spears.

Tests also show that Texas 650 and Texas 660 performed better under irrigated conditions than on dryland, as compared with the other hybrids, he added.

A Williamson county farmer,

Raymond W. Maizer, harvested 35 per cent more grain an acre from Texas 610 than Martin, 1,687 pounds compared with 1,098 pounds.

High yields from Texas 620 were made than from pure varieties under the same conditions, and it was as easy to combine as any variety. However, indications were that Texas 620 may lodge or fall worse than other hybrids, especially where soil moisture conditions are favorable for early growth but unfavorable when the grain reaches maturity.

Durwood Miller near Bishop in Nueces county harvested 4,800 pounds of Texas 610, 4,196 pounds of Texas 650 an acre compared with 4,028 pounds of Martin.

This demonstration compared favorably with other tests made in the Coastal Bend and Lower Rio Grande Valley areas.

In a South Plains demonstration by G. L. Williams of Garza county, Texas 601 produced 3,133 pounds an acre compared with 2,833 pounds for Combine 7078.

Williams said he noted very little difference in harvesting either sorghum. The hybrid tested 15 per cent moisture and the Combine 7078 contained 13.45 per cent moisture at harvest. A 12 to 13 per cent, or lower, moisture content is desired in sorghum grain for combining and storing.

AB To Hold Costume Ball October 20

The flying men of Hondo Air Base will abandon their twentieth century flying aids for the traditional witches brooms to herald the forth coming Hallow-Even with a gala Costume Ball.

Music by the Mellow-Tones with dancing from 9 p.m. to 1 p.m.; a floor show staged by members of '57 November Class; prizes for costumes; and for the convenience of parents, free nursery facilities at the Chapel Annex. Club members and guests should rent a costume, borrow a costume, make or steal one and call HA 6-2160 for table and nursery reservations.

The third annual Halloween Costume Ball will be held at the Hondo Air Base Officers Club Saturday, Oct. 10.

Everyone Conserves Water

During periods when drouth stalks the land, water problems are highlighted. But actually, says Jack Barton, extension soil and water conservation specialist, every man, woman and child in the state has a continuous responsibility in water conservation — even in wet seasons.

What is water conservation, asks Barton? Does it mean that we will hold and hoard water regardless of the cost or consequences?

He defined water conservation as sensible use of necessary water and the prevention of waste. Water flowing unused into the ocean is, in a sense, wasted. Water impounded without reason or use is wasted. Excess water flowing through the faucets at home is wasted.

Farmers who hold rainfall on their land are getting maximum use but those who let rainfall flow freely into the streams and rivers carrying with it valuable top soil which will silt up reservoirs and cause downstream flooding are letting water waste. So is the irrigation farmer who fails to keep ditches in good repair so that water obtained at the source is delivered to the field. Irrigation water lost to seepage, evaporation or that which ends up in road ditches is wasted.

City dwellers, when watering lawns, flowers or shrubbery, who allow water to run down the street instead of using only what is needed are water wasters. Also water heaters which are located too far from the spot where the hot water will be used cause a great deal of water to be wasted. Leaving the faucet open when shaving or washing dishes also is wasteful.

Industrial and municipality users are urged to constantly study water uses and to control and save this precious resource whenever possible.

Barton says it is time to take stock of ourselves and our waste. Understanding, sound thinking and planning, unselfish use and cooperation, he believes can go a long way toward solving water use problems in Texas.

Races are expected to be held on the third Sunday of each month.

Texas Highway Patrol Takes On GOC Job

Highway Patrol officers throughout 21 Southwest Texas counties began watching air traffic as well as road traffic today, it was announced by Capt. Nathan R. Smith of Highway Patrol District Nine.

This new duty, voluntarily assumed by the Highway Patrol, is in the interest of national defense and will be carried out by operating through the Ground Observer Corps.

Under the new program, all Highway Patrolmen of District Nine, which has its headquarters in San Antonio, become airplane spotters. They will forward their aircraft sightings by radio to their communications center at Boerne or Carrizo Springs where a dispatcher will relay the message to the Air Defense Filter Center at 822 Fredericksburg Road.

District Nine is the first in Texas to operate with the Ground Observer Corps and the San Antonio Filter Center is the first of five such centers in the state to utilize the Highway Patrol in the Ground Observer Corps program.

"We are delighted to have the Highway Patrol working with us," said Major Ben Baines, San Antonio Filter Center commander. "Each officer represents the addition of an observation post in the skywatch program. District Nine covers a major portion of the San Antonio Filter Center's area of responsibility, and by having these roving posts constantly on the alert our assurance against surprise air attack is greatly enhanced. We hope soon to utilize adjoining patrol districts until we have this splendid assistance throughout our entire 54 county area."

Highway Patrol District Nine includes the following counties: Atascosa, Bandera, Bexar, Comal, Dimmit, Frio, Gillespie, Kendall, Kerr, Kinney, LaSalle, Maverick, Medina, Real, Uvalde, Val Verde, Wilson and Zavala.

Texas FB Will Meet Nov. 11

HOUSTON — Acreage allotments, soil bank payments, drouth relief, price supports, and the farmer's cost-price squeeze are likely to get top billing when the Texas Farm Bureau holds its 23rd annual convention here Nov. 11-14.

Some 1,500 members, representing every phase of agriculture in Texas, are expected to converge on this city for the state farm organization's 23rd annual session.

Policies to guide the organization in its dealings next year with Congress, various government agencies and officials will be formulated by voting delegates from 196 counties.

A state-wide resolutions committee will meet here for four days prior to the convention to draft tentative resolutions for the delegate body's consideration. These drafts will be based on county resolutions.

Registration for the convention will begin Sunday afternoon, Nov. 11, in the Rice Hotel. A vesper service will be held that evening conducted by Dr. Clifton L. Ganus, Dean of the College of American Studies, Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas.

An open hearing on tentative resolutions will be held Monday morning, with conferences on various commodities scheduled for that afternoon.

Finals of the state-wide Farm Bureau queen contest will be held Monday night Nov. 12. Thirteen district nominees will compete for the state crown and its accompanying prize, a trip to Miami Beach, Fla.

The convention proper will get under way Tuesday Nov. 13, with the morning session featuring TFB president J. Walter Hammond's annual address.

Two nationally known speakers will address the convention that afternoon. They are Price Daniel, Democratic nominee for governor, and Hassil Schenck, president of the Indiana Farm Bureau. Banquet speaker Tuesday night will be Arthur H. Motley, president of Parade Publications, Inc., New York City.

Voting on resolutions will take place on the final day, Wednesday. Balloting will begin after the credentials committee reports and delegates are seated.

Adopted resolutions dealing with state matters will become the official policy of the Texas Farm Bureau for 1956. Approved resolutions on national issues will be recommended to the American Farm Bureau Federation's annual meeting which convenes Dec. 9-13 in Miami Beach, Fla.

Scouts Campaign To Get-Out-The-Votes

The nation's 4,175,134 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders will climax their nationwide Get-Out-the-Vote campaign beginning Saturday, Nov. 3.

On that day and on Monday, Nov. 5, they will call on a total of 35,000,000 homes and leave on front doorknobs a Liberty Bell hanger urging citizens to vote. Hondo will cooperate, according to O. J. Bomba, troop chairman. They have been conducting a nonpartisan campaign, without reference to any candidate or party. It has been sponsored jointly with Freedoms Foundation, Inc., of Valley Forge.

The message on the Liberty Bell hanger reads: "Heed youth's call. Vote as you think, but vote November 6, 1956. Use your freedom to vote." Householders will be invited to display these hangers in their windows indicating their intention to vote.

Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive, said that "the greater number of people that turn out to vote, the greater will be true democracy in action."

"Recognizing the importance of free elections," Dr. Schuck continued, "nearly four million members of the Boy Scouts of America are participating in a nonpartisan Get-Out-the-Vote campaign. Scouts will demonstrate that they are participating citizens by doing their best to instill in adults a determination and responsibility to exercise their rights as free people taking an active part in our government."

"This Get-Out-the-Vote Good Turn, and the spirit which prompts it, can reach deep into the hearts of boys, helping them to become more thoughtful members of their community and their nation. We are eager that

In Washington

By Clinton Davidson

Every year along about this time the U. S. Department of Agriculture issues what it calls a "Balance Sheet for Agriculture" to show just how farmers are doing. The 1956 report may surprise you.

You could cite the figures to show that although some farmers are having serious troubles, agriculture as a whole has prospered during the past few years. If all farmers were average, there wouldn't be much to worry about. The Balance Sheet of farm assets and liabilities is taken at the start of each year. The 1956 report shows that the net worth of farmers increased by $2.5 billion over a year earlier.

Farm assets this year reached a record $170.1 billion, a figure more than three times that of 1940 and a third higher than in 1950. The average per farmer has increased more because there are 25 per cent fewer farmers than in 1940 and 10 per cent fewer than in 1950.

The Department concedes that there has been some slowing down in the rise of net farm worth. A year ago, it reported an increase of $4 billion over a year earlier.

Most of the increase in farm assets has been due to a rise in land prices. Last year, farm real estate values increased by $3.9 billion, to a total of $102.7 billion. Other increases were $600 million in the value of machinery, $400 million in household furnishings, and $200 million each in U. S. savings bonds and investments in cooperatives.

Add those, and you get a total increase of $5.3 billion in farm assets over the 1955 figures. That is the brighter side of the picture. There is another, and far less favorable, side.

On the debit side, the value of livestock took a $500 million tumble to $10.8 billion, the lowest in many years. Crops stored on farms and under CCC loans decreased in value from $9.6 billion to $8.3 billion. Both decreases were due to the decline in farm prices.

Farm debt, other than that money borrowed against crops under CCC loans, showed the biggest increase in many years. The $16.9 billion total was $4 billion above a year earlier and the highest since the big boom of the early 1920's.

Farm mortgage debt increased nearly 10 per cent jumping from $8.2 billion to $9 billion, and unsecured estate borrowings increased by $400 million, to $4.4 billion total. In addition, farmers owed merchants and other suppliers an estimated $3.5 billion, up over $200 million.

While most of the increases were in book values, the declines were in the things farmers sell. Cash income from marketings was down by about $600 million, the entirely to lower prices for crops and livestock sold. A 2 per cent rise in farm supply prices added an extra $200 million to the costs of farm operation.

At the start of the year, farmers had $11.3 billion in currency and bank deposits, and that was the same as a year earlier. Seven out of 10 farmers had no mortgage on their farm, and that, too, was the same as a year earlier.

Civil Service

Announces

Examinations

The U. S. Civil Service Commission has announced an examination for filling the positions of Prison Farm Supervisor, $4,080 a year, and Prison Farm Assistant, $3,670 a year, in various Federal penal and correctional institutions throughout the United States.

The specialized farming operations covered by the examination include field crops, truck gardening, orcharding, dairying, beef production, swine production, poultry production, meat processing, cannery operations, grounds maintenance, and general farm management.

No written test is required. To qualify, applicants must have experience in farming operations including experience in the special field for which application is made. Provision is made for the substitution of pertinent college study for part of the required experience.

Applications will be accepted until further notice and must be filed with the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, U. S. Penitentiary, Leavenworth, Kansas. Further information and application forms may be obtained from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., or from many post offices throughout the country.

EDITORIAL

UNDER EISENHOWER

THE PLIGHT OF THE FARMER

Let us invite the GOP to write a guest editorial:

Aug. 20: "Under the new Republican laws — in the first six months of 1956 — average farm prices steadied and then went up. They are still going up." —Gov. Arthur Langlie, keynote address to GOP convention.

Aug. 21: "We are gratified by the improvement this year in farm prices and income as a result of our policies." —Republican Platform.

Aug. 23: "We stopped the price collapse . . . Farm prices are better—up 10% this year." — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, addressing the GOP convention.

Aug. 23: "We are happy to note that our farmers, whose income has been depressed because of the mountainous surpluses of farm products, are now beginning to move forward with other segments of our economy." —Vice-President Nixon in his acceptance speech, GOP convention.

Aug. 23: "In the first 6 months of 1956 under the Eisenhower Administration there has been an 11% increase in the price of farm products — and they are going to go higher . . ." — Dan Thornton, candidate for the Senate from Colorado, addressing the GOP Convention.

Aug. 23: "Recent improvement in farm prices indicates that we are on the right track. This improvement must continue until a rightful share of our prosperity is permanently enjoyed by agriculture — on which our very life depends." —President Eisenhower's acceptance speech, GOP convention.

Aug. 31: "The Agriculture Department reported Friday that farm prices dropped 3% in the month that ended Aug. 15. It was the sharpest decline in months . . ." — United Press dispatch, Aug. 31.

Oct. 1: "All America has advanced in the last four years." —President Eisenhower, speaking at a rally in Cleveland, Ohio.

Sen. Daniel's Successor

Should Represent Majority

Now that he has won the nomination for governor (and with it the governor's office), U. S. Senator Price Daniel and the Texas Democratic Party are faced with the problem of how he is to give up his seat in the Senate with some semblance of gracefulness that will at the same time protect the party's traditional hold on that office.

The one major point in the public interest is that the next junior senator from Texas shall be named by a majority of the voters rather than by a minority number of voters.

It is certainly possible, even probable, that a "sudden death" election in which the candidate with the most votes wins would see a senator installed with much less than 50 per cent of the total vote. The democratic principle of self government rests solidly upon the proposition that the majority shall prevail. In a "sudden death" election, the minority would probably prevail.

That fact makes a special Democratic primary for the senate more necessary despite the high cost for such an election. The Secretary of State has ruled that such special primary is legal; some students argue that such a special primary is mandatory under the language of the law.

Texas Democrats, understandably, have a selfish interest in a special primary. They face the real threat of losing the seat to the Republican party and with such a loss could very well go to the Democrat majority in the U. S. Senate. The last Congress was organized by the Democrats with a single vote majority. The Democrats could lose control of Congress by a single vote and that vote could very easily be a Texas senator's vote.

A way out of this tight squeeze is to hold the primary on Nov. 6 (general election day), the runoff, if it be needed, on Nov. 13 when there is a constitutional amendment election slated anyway, and the special election early in December.

This plan eliminates special election dates for the primaries and ensures widespread voter participation because the dates are election days already. Further, the December special election between a Democrat and Republican candidate would clear choices to the voter.

The Nov. 13 election is to authorize the Legislature to give public assistance to mentally or physically handicapped persons. The date was set by a Legislative error in calling the election. Thus, cost to the Democratic organization will be negligible if party leaders can be persuaded to rally to their organization and serve on that day without pay.

The only weakness in this plan would be the time element in event a run-off is needed. Cooperation by local officials and a quick tabulation could prevent any complications in this regard.

The only argument we are interested in is that a majority of the voters shall be represented in the final selection of a senator.

We strongly urge Democratic party in Texas to give this plan serious consideration. We appeal to the party's leaders to lend a hand in the interest of patriotic service and keep the election costs moderate. We believe this is a workable plan and we know it is a fair one.

BORROWS FROM JOHNNIE M. BROWN'S
SINTON ENTERPRISE HOME-TOWNER'S COLUMN
"A WIFE'S IDEA OF A NEWSPAPERMAN"

AND WE QUOTE:

This being National Newspaper Week, the Home Towner will spend an extra 15 minutes watching television and use the story below entitled "What Is a Newspaperman?" by Alison Davis Oldham (wife of a newspaperman): "What is a newspaperman? He is a cross between a bundle of nerves and an heroic public servant. He is the People's Friend whom everybody is mad at; the gatherer of news who hasn't time to read his own mail; the power of the printed word enmeshed in a fallible human frame.

"The habitat of the newspaperman is wherever you may find him (and just try about dinner time!) but he is never far from a typewriter or a telephone. Anatomically he is a unique creature, subsisting almost exclusively on caffeine and nicotine, and well on the way to a fine case of ulcers before he's thirty. His habits tend to be primarily nocturnal, from temperament fully as much as from necessity. And if by chance he ever does get a quiet evening at home, then without fail the fire sirens blow or the phone rings, and you don't see him again for another five hours. He is constantly preoccupied when you try to talk to him about the trivia of his personal life, for his mind is a whirlpool of 36-point heads, that error in Jones and Sweeney's classified, and where to dig up the dope on that story some local VIP was "not authorized to divulge."

"A newspaperman is the crazy fool with the camera, out bareheaded in the season's worst storm, or crouching so close to the goal line he's going to get a cleat in his teeth any minute, or trying to herd the Ladies' Literary Circle into order so he can take their picture and get out of there.

Jack Of All Trades

"A newspaperman is the one remaining professional jack of all trades in our specialized society; for he is an expert typist, an amateur English teacher, a part-time salesman, an ad writer, office boy, charwoman and creative artist. He has a working acquaintance with typesetting, political science, ornithology, the social register, addressographs, the who's who and taboos of all the organizations and lodges in town, the tax structure, photographic developing, juvenile delinquency, county fairs, furniture refinishing, and the philosophy of responsible journalism. He is an accomplished labor arbitrator and diplomat in his relations with the boys in the back shop. And — oh yes — he writes, too, of course.

"A newspaperman is considered fair game for taking pot shots at by everyone in the community — the irate Women's Civic Uplift League because he didn't publish every detail of their goings-on, and the wrathful local politicians because he did publish theirs. And yet he is the guy who is supposed to be nice to everyone — from the little old lady who takes half an hour on the day the paper goes to press asking him to change her subscription from 92 Elm Street to 91 Elm Street, to the big advertiser whose special sale price was supposed to read $86 and somehow got in the paper as $186.

Sensitive Craftsman

"Underneath his traditionally hard exterior, the newspaperman is human, and as sensitive as any craftsman about his work. If you want to make him insanely angry, give him a lead on an important story and then say, 'But don't print that; we don't think people should know about it.' If

Drouth Necessitates Pasture Regrassing

In the face of lingering drouth which has left countless Texas ranges baked bare of grass, consideration must be given to reestablishing these pastures in the quickest, surest manner possible.

In recent tests to determine best methods and grass strains for re-establishing rangeland, significant findings have resulted which should prove valuable in all of Texas' widely-scattered range areas.

Treatments used in the regressing study included pitting (a tilled area 3-6 inches deep, 3-5 feet wide) without reseeding, pitting after seeding and pitting before seeding. Grasses used in the tests included strains of sideoats grama and vi mesquite.

In nearly all operations where pitting was used, moisture-holding capacity was improved and native growth was stimulated. Best results came from broadcast seeding following pitting, although operations involving pitting alone proved worthwhile when any significant growth existed. Native grasses that reseeded best on their own were sand mulch, purple threeawn and sideoats grama.

Solid pitting in every instance proved more valuable than skip-pitting done at 6 to 10 foot intervals, because of the greater moisture-storing capacity.

New Regrassing Seed

In tests being held elsewhere, a new strain of sideoats grama grass called Colorado has proved to be probably the most desirable reseed for the bald range.

Among its best qualities are a high seedling vigor and ability to produce stands, a winter-hardiness, and a high average protein content. The good seed strain of the new variety apparently is due to the fact that its seeds are considerably larger than those of other strains of sideoats grama.

The sideoats grammas, as a species, are a "Mid-grass". They cure on the stem better than tall grasses, but not as well as the short grasses. They are deep-rooted drawing moisture from as far down as seven feet.

This last quality alone makes Colorado, which admittedly was developed in Oklahoma, a good neighbor to thirsty Texas range-lands.

tive headlines and dry wit in features and editorials, usually too subtle to be appreciated by any but his wife, who has been coached; and a sadistic glee in pointing out the number of press releases and rewrites on his competitor's front page.

"A newspaperman is essentially a lonely man, apparently doomed to perpetual misrepresentation. He is forever stereotyped as a hard-drinking, high living, backslapping, tough and aggressive cross between Jack Webb and Jackie Gleason, even though in reality he may be a sober, gentle family man, and just as reticent as the next guy about meeting new people or speaking up in public. As for his role, the people know he is their servant, but seldom realize that he serves them and democracy best when he is most independent of their partisan pressures. He is the unpopular individual who tells people what they ought to know, even though some don't want them to know. His is the historic role of enlightening public opinion; but men with historic roles seldom have good appetites.

"It is really only his spontaneous and completely indestructible sense of humor that keeps the newspaperman sane; and yet he is hopelessly addicted to his hectic life. The newspaperman is Truth with a chronic headache; he is Freedom of Information and Opinion with high blood pressure; he is the Champion of Right Causes with darkroom chemical stains on his good clothes; he is Civic Integrity working for half the pay he honestly could get elsewhere, and Honesty coming home very late, very tired. There are times when even his wife can scarcely live with him. But thank God that our country still has the likes of him."

—FD—

To all of which it needs but to be added that, paradoxical as it may seem, the newspaperman wouldn't be anything else but what he is.

Farm Issue At High As Campaign Closes

With the 1956 presidential election campaigns currently reaching their peak, the farm issue had graduated to an all-time high in political debate.

The farm problem is a living campaign issue — more than a political football to be booted around and more than an interesting debate to be observed by the voting public. And the point in question is not whether something should be done, but rather exactly what must be done.

No one will fail to recognize that American farmers are living in a state of depression completely out of keeping with the overall picture. However, few people really understand why the problem is so acute with farmers, and even fewer know how seriously the farm problem could affect other areas of American economy.

Principal Of Parity

Everyday questions of "Why can't the farmers take their own chances like I do in my business?" and "What's with this parity stuff?" come from those who have a warped picture of the greedy farmer who wants everything for nothing.

That just isn't so. Necessity of government control in agricultural economy can be explained through its unique position as an individual, dependent economic segment.

In early all phases of economy there are checks and balances which will keep the costs of labor, living, production, and marketing in near-balance because of their strict inter-dependence.

Unhappily with the farmer, his dependence on other areas of trade is not reciprocal except where his purchasing power is concerned. And this is very important.

But the farmer's supply has grown to a point of almost constantly exceeding consumer demand. Yet, he must market his crop somehow or else be ruined. And when he gets to the market place, the farmer must be able to sell his goods at a rate which will be in line with his buying power.

And that's exactly what parity prices are — dollars and cents prices that give to farm commodities had in a selected base period when prices received and paid by farmers were considered in good balance.

By this reasoning, the farmer's parity ratio now should range at least up to 100 per cent because everything he buys, plus his taxes and interest rates, are at an all-time high.

But under present "flexible" price supports, parity ratio has plummeted while farm costs have skyrocketed. The parity formula has been completely wrecked.

In any other business this could never work; increased costs would be passed on to the consumer in line and so on down to the consumer. Why should the farmer have to suffer the brunt of economic shock?

He can not prosper under present controls, nor can he survive without proper controls.

The issue must be resolved. And it will be, one way or another, on election day, Nov. 6.

Seco Gives His Version Of Retirement This Week

Editor's note: The Seco Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses one of his favorite subjects, retirement, this week.

Dear editor:

With the 4-day week being promised and the retirement age being lowered and social security being increased, oratorically anyway, naturally the problem of leisure is a big issue for the minds of the country to grapple with, and I was especially interested in an article I found in a newspaper which blew out of a car as a couple of teenagers rounded a corner by my farm yesterday afternoon throwing gravel like a ditch-digging machine.

According to it, a lot of older people are considering retiring to a farm to take things easy, but some of them after they've tried it are finding a farm wasn't what they expected.

One man, who invested his life's savings in a farm and settled down to live on his social security check, found it was costing him more to live in the country than it did in town. The well was always running dry or caving in or the pump burned out, his milk cow was eating more than the price his milk would cost him at a supermarket, not counting the fact he had to milk her twice a day, his chickens laid fine for a while then coasted and he figured his investment in a best house, chickens, and feed would more than pay for all the eggs he could eat for the rest of his life.

Well, I'll tell you. Any city man who is figuring on retiring to a farm wants to think it over. It's true you can get by on a farm in some cases without working much, but it takes years of practice. You take the average city man and retire him to a farm and he'll find himself confused before he starts. When he gets there, he figures for example, it'll be pretty nice not to get a water bill on the first of the month, but one of the facts of life is that a lot of people in town can chip in through taxes and put in a community water system a lot cheaper per man than one man can put in one water system for himself in the country. Turning on a hydrant and getting water in the country involves a lot more than turning on a hydrant in town.

Actually, the only way to retire in the country is to do it gradually. You've got to start working back, and work up on to retirement, so when the time comes to retire you can't hardly tell the difference from what you've been doing all the time. That's the system I'm using.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Barnyard "WHOOdonit"

The Barn Owl Controversy still rages in our town. One group claims owls should be protected because they eat vermin. The other faction holds that those little howlers also eat chickens... and should be shot.

Now Pops Parker claims both parties are right. All owls clean up vermin. Some owls also clean out an occasional hen yard.

The way to spot a bad owl, according to Pops, is to put up a 10-foot pole in the chicken run with a No. 2 trap on it. A marauding bird generally perches to look over the situation before he strikes, giving you your evidence, and the culprit!

From where I sit, I doubt if this will end the owl argument. People have different opinions on the subject—just as they have different opinions about whether beer, tea or what-have-you makes the best thirst quencher. Examine the facts and make up your own mind, I say... and be thankful we live where that's possible.

Oil Industry Gives Whale Of A Story

The American Petroleum Institute recently issued a preliminary listing of special events and activities that will take place during the current Oil Progress Week, Oct. 14-20. It fills more than 14 closely mimeographed pages, and a complete listing would take many more. For there will be literally thousands of such events—running the widest conceivable gamut from a "Fashions In Oil" show featuring petroleum—derived women's apparel, to what is billed as the biggest small-town parade in history, in Natchez, Miss., to tours of refineries and other oil installations.

The point is to bring the story of oil and the industry which produces, processes, and distributes it to every man, woman and child in this country. And, going by the projected program, that will certainly be done.

It's a whale of a story. Life without incredible quantities of oil, in a thousand and one diverse forms—would be literally inconceivable to Americans. There's hardly a moment of the day that oil doesn't serve us in one way or another. It warms us, gives us mobility, produces much of our industrial energy, and performs all manner of essential tasks on our farms. As an element in the national security and defense, it knows no superior.

Back of this story there is a fact of overriding importance. The enormous services oil performs for us all have been made possible by our system of competitive free enterprise.

Asphalt Comes From Petroleum Products

Ever wonder where the asphalt comes from that you see every day on city streets, country lanes and broad highways?

Asphalt is a petroleum product. It comes from the same crude oil that supplies the gasoline that pushes your car down the highway.

Let's follow a batch of crude oil through the units of Humble Oil & Refining Company's Baytown Refinery and see the black mass of asphalt emerge at the loading platform, ready for trucks to carry it out to a roadbuilding job.

The production of asphalt at the Humble refinery is basically a three-phase process. The crude oil flowing into the refinery first goes to the stills, where it is boiled and the light fractions—propane, butane, gasoline, and others—vaporize and go to the top. The oil left in the bottom of the stills then flows to the Propane Lub Plant where oils which will later be processed for the production of lubricants are separated from the asphalt by a process known as deasphalting. The black, heavy residue that is one of the products of this plant is asphalt, which flows to the Asphalt Plant for further processing.

At the Asphalt Plant, the residue is processed to produce the various grades of asphalt that are required for various uses. The asphalts produced fall into two broad categories, penetration types and cutback types. The penetration type is thick and hard for use on modern super highways which need a surface to withstand continued heavy pounding. The cutback asphalts are used on city streets, most farm-to-market roads, and for topping jobs of various types.

Specification testing on the asphalt is checked by Humble men and also by inspectors of the Texas Highway Department before it is delivered to roadbuilding contractors for use on state roads.

Civil Defense Develops New Kits

A new kit has been developed by the Federal Civil Defense Administration to explain the threat of biological warfare and set forth means of counteracting its effects on people, livestock and crops.

The kit was designed to provide fundamental information to the general public in cities and rural areas through use of four film strips with accompanying sound records, six FCDA publications and a special instruction leaflet.

The film strips portray the steps civil defense would use to offset biological warfare aimed at people, plants, crops and animals.

The publications are entitled: "What You Should Know About Biological Warfare," "What the Farmer Should Know About Biological Warfare," "Civil Defense Against Biological Warfare," "Rural Family Defense," "The Veterinarian in Civil Defense," and "The States, Counties, Cities, and Civil Defense."

The instruction leaflet contains introductory remarks for use in presenting each film strip, suggestions for handling publicity, and sample radio and TV announcements.

Sullivan To Appear In S.A.

Ed Sullivan, television's top showman, will be master of ceremonies at a Boysville benefit show in the Municipal Auditorium in San Antonio at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Nov. 20.

Mail order tickets are now on sale and may be had by sending a check or money order payable to Boysville to the Municipal Auditorium Box Office, San Antonio, and enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

With proceeds to go 1,000 percent to South Texas' "home with a heart for homeless boys," the tickets range in price from $3.75 to $3, $2.50 and $1.50. All seats are reserved.

Boysville has helped more than 600 blameless victims of broken homes during the past 13 years.

SW Texas Is Third In Wells

Southwest Texas, in the petroleum picture since oil was discovered in 1913 at Somerset Field, had the third largest number of new well completions in the state during the first half of 1956. Only West Texas and North Texas exceeded the 2,365 completions chalked up in Southwest Texas.

Of that total, 1,172 were oil wells, 120 condensate, 92 gas and 981 dry holes. Even in this prolific area 41 per cent of the wells drilled were dry holes. Important new oil discoveries were made in Maude Traylor Field in Refugio County.

In addition to its production activity, the oil industry was busy in Southwest Texas processing oil and gas. The 12 refineries in the area were processing 205,256 barrels of crude oil a day in May of this year. Twenty-four gasoline plants processed a daily average of nearly 1.3 billion cubic feet of gas while 14 cycling plants processed nearly 1.7 billion cubic feet. Liquid products from these plants averaged 52,573 barrels a day.

The waters off the coast of Southwest Texas were the scene of the first Texas offshore oil strike in July of 1954. The discovery was in waters off Kleberg County. The second Texas offshore field, a gas strike, is off Padre Island, also on the coast of Southwest Texas.

Constitutional Amendments

CONSTITUTIONAL Amendments 3-48

RE-ALIGNING THE SOURCES OF INCOME FROM WHICH STATE INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER LEARNING FINANCE THEIR BUILDING PROGRAMS, AND PERMITTING INVESTMENT OF THE PERMANENT UNIVERSITY FUND IN ADDITIONAL SECURITIES.

H. J. R. No. 15

House Joint Resolution No. 15 proposes to amend three different sections of the Constitution dealing with three different subjects, which are nonetheless rather closely related to each other. BUILDINGS FOR COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

Section 17 of Article VII of the Constitution, adopted in 1947, provides a special building fund for fourteen state institutions of higher learning. A 5c ad valorem tax provides the money to pay off bonds which may be issued by these institutions, the income from this tax being allocated to each institution on a designated percentage basis. The major changes in Section 17 proposed by House Joint Resolution No. 15 are in the formula for reallocating tax income every ten years and in the list of institutions of higher learning which receive the benefit of this tax.

The State Comptroller of Public Accounts is now required to reallocate income from this tax every ten years on the basis of the average long session full-time student enrollment at each of the institutions for the preceding five year period of time. Under this amendment, beginning June 1, 1958, such reallocation of income would be on the basis of the average long session full-time student equivalent enrollment. Fifteen semester credit hours would constitute one full-time student.

Lamar State College of Technology at Beaumont and Texas Southern University at Houston are added to the list of institutions which benefit from this provision of the Constitution. Under a 1953 law financing of their buildings is accomplished from special fees charged to students in lieu of the usual tuition and laboratory fees. House Joint Resolution No. 15 would repeal this law as of January 1, 1958, and the bonds already issued by these two schools as well as bonds issued by them in the future would thereafter be paid off by funds received under this section of the Constitution. John Tarleton Agricultural College, North Texas Agricultural College and Prairie View Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas would be removed from the list effective January 1, 1958. Bonds or notes heretofore issued by these schools or issued thereafter would be payable out of income allocated for that purpose to A&M College at College Station from the Permanent University Fund. The College of Mines and Metallurgy would be removed from the list and after January 1, 1958 the bonds or notes heretofore issued by it or issued thereafter would be paid out of income from the Permanent University Fund allocated to the University of Texas.

The Constitution now says that bonds or notes issued by the respective institutions operating under Section 17 must mature not later than ten years from the first day of January of each year in which funds are allocated or reallocated to the respective institutions. House Joint Resolution No. 15 would require that such bonds all must mature not later than September 1, 1968 and September 1, 1978 respectively. There is a further provision that the power to issue bonds or notes is limited to a period of twenty years from the effective date of the amendment which would be January 1, 1958. This is approximately the same as the present limitation which is thirty years from the date of adoption on August 23, 1947. Allocations to the institutions actually became effective January 1, 1948.

Institutions of higher learning which participate in these funds may not receive any other State funds for acquiring or constructing buildings or other permanent improvements, except in case of fire, flood, storm or earthquake. House Joint Resolution No. 15 would continue these restrictions against receipt of any General Revenue funds, but not against other State funds; any appropriation from the General Revenue Fund to meet the above emergencies would be restricted to replacement of uninsured loss.

This part of the amendment would be self-enacting, and would become effective on January 1, 1958.

Buildings for A&M & Texas

House Joint Resolution No. 15 would also rewrite Section 18 of Article VII of the Constitution of Texas which now provides that A&M College may issue negotiable bonds or notes up to $5,000,000 and the University of Texas may issue negotiable bonds or notes up to $10,000,000, to be payable out of income from the Permanent University Fund, to mature serially or otherwise not more than twenty years from their respective dates and not later than twenty-five years after the date of adoption of this section of the Constitution on August 23, 1947.

The proposed amendment would bring under the provisions of this section of the Constitution A&M College at College Station, Arlington State College, Tarleton State College, Prairie View A&M College, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas Engineering Experiment Station at College Station, and the Texas Forest Service. However, no building or other permanent improvement could be acquired or constructed except at the first four named institutions without the prior approval of the Legislature or of such agency as may be authorized by the Legislature to grant such approval.

Similarly, there would be brought under the provisions of this section of the Constitution the Main University at Austin, Texas Western College, the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston, the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School at Dallas, the University of Texas Dental Branch at Houston, M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute at Houston, the University of Texas Postgraduate School of Medicine, the University of Texas School of Public Health, the Marine Science Institute at Port Aransas; but no building or other permanent improvement could be acquired or constructed except at the Main University and Texas Western College without the prior approval of the Legislature or of such agency as may be authorized by the Legislature to grant such approval.

Bonds could be issued by A&M College System not to exceed a total amount of one-third of 20 per cent of the value of the Permanent University Fund, exclusive of real estate at the time of any issuance. The University of Texas could issue negotiable notes or bonds not to exceed a total amount of two-thirds of 20 per cent of the value of the Permanent University Fund, exclusive of real estate at the time of any issuance.

This part of the amendment would become effective January 1, 1958, would be self-enacting, and would to add a new Section 11a to Article VII of the Constitution of Texas. It would permit investment of the Permanent University Fund in additional securities approved by the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, including common and preferred stocks of corporations.

Money received into the Permanent University Fund can now be invested "in bonds of the United States, the State of Texas, or counties of said State, or School Bonds of municipalities or in bonds of any city of this State or in bonds issued under and by Act." Only the interest accruing on such investments can be appropriated by the Legislature. If adopted, would authorize the bonds mentioned above, to invest in first lien real estate mortgage securities guaranteed in any manner in whole by the United States Government or any agency thereof and in such corporate bonds, preferred stocks and common stocks as the Board may deem to be proper investments for the Permanent University Fund.

The proposed new Section 11a is similar to a constitutional amendment defeated in 1951 by a vote of 124-54 to 100-50. However, it provides additional safeguards as to the investments which may be made and the conditions under which they may be made; and it clarifies a point of considerable discussion in connection with the former proposal by stating that both interest and dividends accruing from these securities shall be subject to appropriation by the Legislature.

Not more than 50 per cent of the Fund could be invested in corporate stocks and bonds and not more than 5 per cent of the voting stock of any one corporation could be owned. Not more than 1 per cent of the Permanent University Fund could be invested in securities issued by any one corporation. Investment in stocks would be restricted to that of companies incorporated within the United States which have paid dividends for ten consecutive years or longer immediately prior to the date of purchase. All stocks eligible for purchase, except bank and insurance stocks, would have to be listed upon an exchange registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission or its successors. In making each and all investments provided for under the proposed Section 11a the Board of Regents would be required to "exercise the judgment and care under the circumstances then prevailing which men of ordinary prudence, discretion, and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs not in regard to speculation but in regard to the permanent disposition of their funds, considering the probable income therefrom as well as the probable safety of their capital."

Interest and dividends from investments of the Permanent University Fund would be applicable first to bonds or notes issued for building purposes by the University of Texas and by A&M College under Section 18 of Article VII. Additional interest and dividends would be available for other operating purposes of the University.

This proposed amendment would also be self-enacting. It would become effective upon its adoption. The Legislature would be required to provide by law for full disclosure of all details concerning the investments in corporate stocks and bonds and other investments authorized by this amendment.

The amendments of the three different sections of the Constitution provided by this resolution would substantially re-align the sources of income from which the various state institutions of higher learning may carry out their building programs. They do not make any new sources of funds available except in two ways: first and mainly, the proposed new Section 11a would make new investments available to the Permanent University Fund which members of the Board of Regents and many University supporters would feel would increase income without endangering the principal of the Fund. Second, the amendment of Section 17 might in some circumstances allow the Legislature to make direct appropriations for building purposes to those institutions under Section 17. The Constitution now says that, except in certain emergencies, no such appropriation shall be made from any other State refund. The new proposal would require that no appropriation could be made from the General Revenue Fund.

The proposed new Section 11a would make an important new source of funds available to the business and commerce of the State. The authority granted to the Board of Regents would be absolute, subject to the restrictions noted. These restrictions and the character of the people who have always composed the Board would seem to provide adequate safeguards against manipulation and unwise investments. There would of course be some element of risk in the broader fields of investment which the

AB Wives Elect Officers

The Hondo Air Base Wives Club, meeting last Wednesday, elected Bert Moore as their new president for the coming year.

Other officers elected include Mary Carr, vice-president; Lee Porter, secretary; and Jane Davidson, treasurer.

Pink and red streamers with big letters spelling out "Election Day" behind the head table carried out the theme of the meeting, which was election day for officers of the club. The head table, which was flanked by a large donkey and elephant, held a centerpiece of roses, mums and fern and a miniature donkey and elephant.

Individual tables were centered with tiny class banners stuck in gumdrops.

Door prizes were awarded to Ester Cook and Mary Corrine. Kay Young was senior hostess for the meeting, and Mrs. Horace Knight played the piano during the election. Dot Lytle of Uvalde visited during the meeting.

Fan Leazenby is the outgoing president and presided over the luncheon and election.

Plans were made for the County Council meeting, which will be held at the Herman Sons Hall in Castroville Oct. 15. A main item on the agenda will be to wear a dress or have an article which the member has made for Achievement Day. There will be a demonstration on Flower Arrangements by Mrs. Fred Childs.

Mrs. Strayhorn's demonstration included "Plan Three Meals a Day" and "Homemakers Shortcuts". The hostess then served a salad, crackers, cookies, and iced tea. The next meeting will be held in Mrs. Ethel Daniel's home, Oct. 25.

Meeting...

present was, "Stay out of the District," and he read the following paper: "We find that most of all the valley land in Bandera County is of Glen Rose formation, and from the observations of the hydrologists and the geologists with the U. S. Geological Survey reporting to the Board of Water Engineers in Bulletin No. 5608, Volume 1 of the Ground Water Resources of the San Antonio Area, we find that the Glenrose as a whole is a poor aquifer. From all data at hand today we feel that the recharge to the Glenrose would be so negligible that the lands of Bandera county cannot be bettered as to conditions of living and health or served with more water or rendered free from other interruptions.

We find that only the western part of Bandera County is in the Edwards limestone formation and that this area included only the extreme head waters of the Medina and Sabinal Rivers and their tributaries, therefore we see no benefits to be received by the lands to be included in the proposed district and the residents thereof. We feel that to retain the western part of Bandera county which belongs to many small ranchers and farmers within the district's taxing power would be arbitrary and not required to conserve the public welfare."

L. L. Bright made a motion that the group go on record as "against" the proposed Water district.

This motion carried unanimously.

SHRINERS TO PRESENT SA CIRCUS

A center of attraction for the young at heart throughout this section will be the 13th annual Alzar Shrine-Polack Bros. Circus, to be presented the week of Oct. 22-28 in the San Antonio Municipal Auditorium.

Performances will be given twice daily at 3:30 and 8:15 Monday through Friday, and at 2:15 and 8:15 Saturday and Sunday.

Thousands of children who otherwise would not be able to attend, will be brought to the school-day matinees from a broad radius, their chance to see the circus made possible by blocks of donated tickets.

Boasting a predominantly new assemblage of international circus-dance's choicest talent, this year's circus offers the following outstanding features:

Aerial achievements by the Flying Palacios, Pinito del Oro, the High-Wire Torreonis, LaLage and Barbettes Aerialovelles and Birdage Girls.

Attainments in animal education by Victor Julian's Pets with the "fashion show" dogs, the Dorchester Troupe with their horses and the Besalou Baby Elephants with Baby Opal.

Acrobatic accomplishments by the Atomics, the Kovacs, Jan Risko and Nina and the Ronnie Lewis Ensemble, directed by Barbettes.

Barbettes' gala mardi gras frolic, "Festival du Cirque."

Famous clowns headed by Lou Jacobs and including Rudy Ducky, the Sherman Brothers, Harold Simmons and Jackie Gerlich.

Band Day Set For Texas U.

High school bandmen — more than 10,000 strong — will be in Austin Oct. 20 for the University of Texas' 21st annual "Band Day."

Texas high school bands will compete for marching and playing honors in a 2:30 p.m. parade, following a route north on Congress Avenue to the Capitol.

More than 140 school bands participated in 1955, and at least that many will be here again, Vincent R. DiNino, Longhorn Band director, predicted. DiNino is in charge of arrangements, in cooperation with the Austin Public Schools.

All Band Day participants will be the University's guests that day, and will be admitted free to the Longhorn — University of Arkansas football game in Memorial Stadium that night.

The massed bands will play one march at the Southwest Conference game. Parade winners will be announced during half-time activities. Trophies will be awarded to winning bands in three classifications and to the band which has come the farthest distance.

Last year's Band Day winners Gladewater, San Marcos and Sugar Land, will march at half-time with the Longhorn Band.

Texans Find Ike Stands For Same Things We Do

A fellow was in our town the other day selling men's suits. He was from St. Louis, and he said he was a manufacturer's representative. Grandpa would have called him a dry goods drummer, and Papa would have referred to him as a traveling salesman. This shows you how things change with time. But actually that fellow from St. Louis was doing just about what the earlier visitors did—trying to sell suits.

You might say that he stayed in the same place but the names went off and left him. Reminded me some of the political situation in Texas.

I was reading a letter in the daily newspaper last week, from a man who said he was going to vote for Eisenhower. "I am a Democrat," he wrote to the editor of the paper, "but I feel like the party has run off and left me."

Come to think of it, a lot of conservative-type Texas Democrats are in that shape today. They haven't changed their views much on such things as local control, government spending, bureaucratic red tape, and freedom of the individual; they still travel down the same road they did 20 or 30 years ago, even if they do it at 70 miles an hour instead of 25.

They grew up believing that a man could live down nearly anything except voting for a Republican. They always voted 'er straight, until a good many of them jumped over the traces in '52 and went for Ike.

"I can't figure out what's happened," one of them told me. "Seems like Eisenhower talks like a Democrat and Stevenson talks like a college professor."

The other day this same fellow said: "I think I've got it figured out. Ike stands for the things us Texas Democrats have always stood for. Adlai is too thick with Walter Reuther and that crowd to suit me. I'm going for Ike again."

That's the way with most folks in our town. They decided to give Ike a try at it in '52, and they like the way he has gone about the job. There are some things they wished he'd done a little different, but by and large they think he has made us a fine President. At least all the hometown boys are back from Korea, and as far as we can tell the government is being run honestly.

Somebody asked that Missouri suit salesman how Mr. Truman was getting along, and he said he didn't know. "He isn't in the clothing business any more," he explained. "In fact, as far as I can tell, he is clear out of all kinds of business."

Yours Truly,
Tex
(Pol. adv. paid for by Texas Democrats for Eisenhower, Weldon Hart, Director.)

GATE-CLOSERS

Dear Friends

A farmer friend of ours paid Humble's field men a fine compliment recently. He said, "There's one thing about you Humble people, you close gates." Well, of course we do.

All of us at Humble want the good will of the folks with whom we do business. And among those folks, the farmers and ranchers who lease their land to us for exploration and production are right at the top of the list.

In fact, you farmers are partners with us in the development of a vital natural resource. If our efforts are successful then everyone involved benefits.

Keeping the gates closed and the fences mended—things like that are the least we can do.

We know. A lot of us grew up on farms and ranches.

Senator Johnson Says Judgement Day Near

AUSTIN — Senator Lyndon B. Johnson says that so far as Benson, Brownell, and the Big Bankers are concerned, "Judgement Day is drawing near."

The Senate Majority Leader at a news conference here, said that the battle lines in the Texas campaign have clearly been formed. "It is a question of Republican money against the enthusiasm of the people for the Democratic Party," Johnson said.

Texas' Senior Senator stated that the Democrats don't have much money, but they do have the issues. Warning the GOP of its "Judgement Day," he said: "They cannot explain away their 'get-off-the-farm-by-sundown' programs."

"They cannot explain away their tight money squeeze that is driving small businessmen to the wall.

"And they cannot explain away their complete indifference to Texas problems."

Johnson said that if the Republicans showed the same concern for Texas problems they show for Texas votes, the story might be different. "But they cannot hope in a few short weeks," he charged, "to cover up a record of non-performance that stretches over four years."

Johnson expressed pleasure that Wilson County Democrats, headed up by Floresville Chronicle Publisher Sam Fore, had been the first to exceed their quota for contributions to the Democratic campaign.

"Wilson County has been hit in the past four years by practically every disaster that nature and Ezra Taft Benson can devise," Johnson said. "It has borne the brunt of tight money, falling farm prices, and the drought. But Wilson County came through with a check for $607 — on a $500 quota. This does not go far in matching Republican money, but it more than overmatches Republican leaders in terms of heart and fighting courage."

John Palmer Explains Social Security Laws

Editor's Note: This is the first in a series of stories on the 1956 Amendments to the Social Security Act, prepared for this paper by John D. Palmer, Manager of the San Antonio district office. Readers may want to clip these articles and thus have a complete file on what the new law does and does not provide.

Congress deliberated for almost two years before making changes in the Social Security Act which became law when President Eisenhower signed the bill on August 1, 1956.

The far-reaching changes in the law will affect every American family. This series of short articles is intended to give you information that will enable you to determine the importance of the Amendments of 1956, to you and your family.

Retirement and family insurance payments will be payable beginning with November of this year to women at age 62. The benefits for women workers and the wives of retired workers will be at a reduced rate before age 65. Payments to widows and the dependent mothers of deceased workers will be paid at age 62 without a reduction.

Another important change in the law provides for the payment of disability insurance at age 50 to those who become unable to work because of extended sickness or accident. These payments will first be paid for July 1957 to those over age 50, who have had extensive social security coverage.

Lawyers, dentists, osteopaths, veterinarians, and chiropractors, are now under the law in 1956, like other self-employed persons. Self-employed medical doctors are still excluded. Members of the armed forces of the United States will be covered by the law like other employees on January 1, 1957. Important changes were also made in the law as it applies to farmers and agricultural workers.

These, and other interesting provisions of the amended law, will be explained in detail in this series. In the next article, you can read about the new benefits for women under the subject — Reduced Age for Women.

Sinclair Stages Contest

Our local Sinclair dealers will participate in Sinclair's Annual Fill'er Up Week Contest, to be held October 22 through October 27, Mr. Jas. MacGregor, Sinclair's Area Manager announced today. This Contest is designed to stimulate interest among motorists in a new super-premium gasoline—Power-X with X-Chemical—which has recently been introduced by Sinclair Refining Company.

Mr. MacGregor said that all motorists who visit their local Sinclair dealer station to help him win his contest will be offered a free 10-point winter safety check.

The dealer who attains the highest gallonage over the six-day period will receive a special Achievement Award, symbolic of outstanding activity in service station management. (ADV.)

County Agent Goes To Corpus Meet

By C. B. Gaston

The county agent, accompanied by the boy and girl Gold Star Award winners, Donald Muenink of Hondo and Beverly Flack of Natalia, and adult leaders, Mrs. D. L. Hunter of Devine and Leslie Muenink of Hondo, attended the banquet at Corpus Christi last Saturday night. There were approximately 80 boys and girls and about 100 adults attending the banquet sponsored by the Central Power and Light Company.

The October 1st forecast reports that pecan production in Texas will be 27,500,000 pounds which is about 3 million pounds under the long time average. Insects have been very bad this year and account for part of this decrease.

The 1954 Agricultural Census lists Medina County as having 93.08 per cent of farms being served by electricity, which is in line with the national average. Other years before the latest report give the following information: 1930, 8.62 per cent; 1940, 26.24 per cent; 1950, 85.35 per cent.

It is reported that the FFA County Committee is accepting applications for surplus feed grain with the certificates valued at $1.50 per hundred. It is unofficially reported that negotiations are underway to work out a reduced freight rate with the railroads to allow shipment of hay from other states at a reduced rate. If the latter report materializes, livestock owners will be notified.

The June 1956, issue of the "Agricultural Leaders Digest" reports the following:

Is the degree of red color in Hereford cattle associated with performance, or is it just a matter of stockman's fancy? New Mexico A&M College tested the intensity of red color—light, medium and dark—on the range and feedlot performance for several years. Average values were computed for each trait according to each of the color score groups. They found that performance and color score are unrelated in all cases. Herefords with the same color shade will perform differently and steers with the same performance will vary in color.

How many times have you observed that fields having trees growing along the fence rows have affected the growth of crops for quite a distance into the field? This can be overcome and the trees eliminated with chemicals with very little work and expense. The best time to treat trees individually is during the fall and winter months. If interested in this practice call by the county agent's office and get more information about the use of chemicals in applying them to individual trees.

Texas Holds Dads' Day, Homecoming

Dads' Day and Homecoming will be celebrated on the University of Texas campus, Saturday, Nov. 3.

Visiting parents and ex-students will take part in a pre-football game barbecue on Freshman Field, watch an afternoon grid battle between the Texas Longhorns and Southern Methodist University Mustangs, and attend a Homecoming Dance that evening in the Texas Union Building.

The Longhorn Band will play an "old-fashioned" band concert at the noon-time barbecue. Ted Weems' Orchestra will furnish music for the Homecoming Dance.

Dads' Day events will include election of new officers, presentation of Most Outstanding Boy and Girl Awards, a mothers coffee in the Rare Books Library, and an hour-long program of student entertainment.

"All parents of University students are invited to Dads' Day," said Richard W. Ballock, Marshall, Dads' Association president.

The University Ex-Students' Association, sponsoring the barbecue and dance, also will have a morning coffee for alumni in the Union Building.

"Homecoming is being planned as a fall festival which we hope will become as important to alumni in coming years as Round-Up is," said Jack R. McGuire, Ex-Students' Association executive secretary.

Mrs. L. F. Fasel went to Dallas last week with the Harry Meadows of San Antonio for a visit with M&M Earl Huff and family and M&M Debs Hensley and family.

We are happy to report that Fritz Fasel is feeling much better, at the home of his daughter, M&M Ebbie Bademan, after being quite ill for a few days.

Visiting him Sunday were M&M Melvin Erick and family and the Halubs of San Antonio.

PERSONAL APPEARANCE

By Jerry June Berger

It was certainly grand to get up Tuesday morning and not have to rush out and start the sprinkler running on some parched section of the lawn. That nice rain accounted for more water than we could have poured on the yard in a week of hose dragging.

We should be fortunate that we still have adequate water in the city wells to continue sprinkling, for many places in our state have cut off all use of water in this manner.

The big city of Dallas even has a drinking water problem. Their principal source of water gave out and now they are using water which has a definite salty taste. We just about dehydrated ourselves up there a couple of weekends ago trying to avoid drinking it at all. Good drinking water is being sold in cartons in Dallas stores for up to 50 cents per gallon—dairies are supplying them.

There are just a lot of the nation's problems that could be solved with adequate moisture.

At the beginning of school this year, we commented that one of the largest groups of high school graduates was headed for college this year from the Hondo class of '56.

A week or so later we ran in to MRS. LILLIAN BRUCKS HUBERT who told us she believes that her graduating class probably holds the record. A majority of that group went on to college and eight of them won one degree and four have two or more degrees. Can any other Hondo High graduate top this?

Seems to us our younger generation becomes more sophisticated with each passing year.

Last week, a large hand lettered sign appeared on a utility pole out in front of the GLENN POPE residence announcing that a puppet show would be presented at the POPE home Saturday morning, admission—1 cent. TEX and FREDDE CLAIRE, elementary school students at St. John's, had cooked up the presentation.

But this Monday morning another sign, smaller in size, appeared across the face of the first one. In big letters from one corner of the cardboard down diagonally across to the bottom corner was the one word, "Cancelled" not unlike one might see when a Broadway show is called off.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

By Dr. John H. Jennings

The '56 Owls took Devine 33 to 7 last Friday to make it six in a row and run their undefeated streak to 18! Coach Max Carver now has a record of 25 wins, 3 ties and 3 losses in his three years at Hondo. The 3 losses were to Del Rio 21 to 20, Devine 8 to 0 and Deer Park 25 to 13, all in 1954.

The Owls have an open date this week but start District play the next Friday here against Cotulla.

How It Went

The Owls, as has been the pattern, had a wide margin in the statistics as well as in the scoring. It was a hard ball game and not like a 33 to 7 score sounds. Hondo played fine offensive football, but in other respects they were not world beaters. The Owls, with their fine power, QB option and sneak and excellent passing game, had things pretty much their way.

The second and third quarter was all Hondo as they ran 37 plays to 16 for the Warhorses through Devine did get a second period score. The fourth period was exercise for the officials as they walked off 7 penalties for 65 yards . . . three against Hondo and Devine rated four. The Owls gained a staggering 472 yards in 64 plays while Devine got a respectable 265 (only 76 rushing) in 48 calls (27 were passing plays.) Soooo, Devine did as most past opponents tried to do — junk the running game and try to pass over the big Owls. I hope our pass defense is learning from the experience. We might NEED their very best one of these nights.

Big accurate Alvin threw only 13 times, just to mix things up. The running game was eating up good medium yardage as it ate up time. Six were completed, all for good yardage and all to Billy Neuman. HARTMAN HAS NOT HAD A PASS INTERCEPTED ALL YEAR!

The Scoring

The Owls got five TDs and each one by a different boy as they passed the honors around. Hartman, Highsmith, Neuman, Woolls and Windrow all got six pointers.

Devine won the toss but elected to take the wind, and the Owls chose to receive. Then the Warhorses, after choosing the wind, declined to use the strategy by refusing to punt on 2 or 3 occasions when they were "supposed" to . . . and they got away with it! I still do not know why they elected to kick off.

The Owls jumped off to three rushing first downs but finally had to punt from near mid-field. Butch Woolls was soon to intercept a pass though and returned 14 yards to the Devine 21 to set up the first TD which came 5 plays later. Windrow drove for 9, Highsmith went twice for a 10 total, and Hartman after getting 4 went over center Jug Wiemers. Guards Charles Tilley and William Reus for a 3 yard QB sneak TD. The first quarter ended 7 to 0.

Big Jug Wiemers covered a Devine fumble on his own 25 and the Owls then drove 75 yards in 8 plays for a score — 54 by land and one 21 yard pass. The longer gains were a 9 yarder by Woolls, a 21 yard pass from Hartman to Neuman, and a 16 then a 24 yard TD jaunt by Rambling Ray Highsmith as Tilley, Tommy Koch and Bohmfalk helped clear the way.

The Owls got TD No. 3 the next time they got possession on another 75 yard march in 5 plays. Windrow got 7, Highsmith got 8 and 30 before Hartman hit Neuman for a beauty of a 30 yard TD pass.

Devine returned the kick off to the 50 in a "mean wedge-like" affair and then a 15 yard Owl penalty but then on the Owl 35 when Shaw passes a fine shot to 63! Bradford Bush for the Warhorses' lone score. They ran the extra point over. Half-time score was 20 to 7. Devine did not get a second period First Down, but they did get 7 points!

Last Half Scoring

The third quarter was all Hondo as the Owls ran 19 plays to nine for Devine, gaining 123 yards to 32 for the Warhorses . . . but no TDs were rung up.

Woolls got the fourth Owl score on the first play of the fourth quarter from 4 yards out to climax a 95 yard drive — all this after they had stalled Devine on their own 5 with three incomplete passes. The longest run on this drive was of the short blasting variety. Hartman had 11 and 1, Woolls had 12 and 5 yarders, while Highsmith contributed a 6 and an 8 yarder. The two big amazing plays were passes from Hartman to you know who (Neuman) for 14 and 35 yards. It took 2 plays to cover the 95 yards.

The fifth and final Owl TD came on a 45 yard drive in 8 plays with Johnny Windrow going over center (thanks to Schweers, eus, Wiemers and Tilley) from the 3. Highsmith chopped off 8 and 2 yards, Hartman 5, Butch Woolls 15, with the Hartman-Neuman pass combo gaining 15.

Windrow made good on 3 of 5 conversion attempts. Missed one after a 15 yard penalty . . . this after two other penalties rubbed the play out. It looked like we would spend all night trying for that extra point.

Game Notes

Rambling Ray Highsmith ran smooth and easy on a 65 yard kick-off return. He waited for his blockers to form and go to work, then put it in high gear at the proper time to give a demonstration of one of the prettiest plays and runs of the night. Jug Wiemers tried desperately to clear out the last defender but just couldn't reach his man . . . Highsmith intercepted a Devine pass in the fourth quarter on his own 15 to stop a potential drive. Ray broke up a few passes during the night too.

It was glue-fingered Billy Neuman as he caught all of Alvin's six completions . . . and each one for good yards (21, 30, 14, 35, 20, 15) each either made a first down, set up a TD or scored a TD! A pretty fair night indeed for both Billy and Alvin.

Charles Tilley, particularly did a fine job in rolling into the Devine kick-off "wedge". He had to roll into a lot of beef and cleats! If Tilley will just bow his neck and get mean in all our pay-off games coming up he can show us lots of "Jerry Muennink-like" tackles.

The Owls rushed for a respectable 337 yards, and you have to give credit up front in making a place for the backs to go. Tommy Koch, showing all the guts in the world in spite of a bad leg, is about as fine a blocker as you will find. Gary Schweers, at the other tackle, is responsible in large part for the always good yardage Butch Woolls picks up.

It is hard for the public address announcer to call the correct boy or boys making the tackles, but last Friday, Hartman's name was called too often instead of Schweers, Tilley, Wiemers, Bohmfalk, or someone else, though Big Alvin WAS in on as many plays as anyone. Johnny Windrow is ALWAYS doing a fine job at his defensive end position. He is what you would call a ball-player's ballplayer.

Rush And Tackle

Two glaring things the Owls did NOT do Friday was rush the passer or tackle with authority . . . either the Devine line was doing a good job or the Owls were not, or a combination of both. I think we were lucky that only 9 of 27 were completed. The Devine boy was a very fine passer too . . . he did not stay still long. If the Owls give a passer who is hot that much time, we are going to get shocked one of these nights and no doubt about it. If the Owls could give Hartman that much time, there is no telling how many points would be rung up. Pearsall has a real fine passer . . . to go with a couple of good running backs . . . the Owls will have to rush and play ball THAT night because every game from here on is for keeps. A few mistakes now will mean a sudden end to a finish to football for too many fine '56 Owls.

The Owl tackling was not up to standard either. When you go in for a tackle it is to take command, not to break even or to lose "just a little". The coaches, in this off-week, hope to drill on these fundamentals, for actually when you get down to it in a close ballgame the team with the hardest blocking and tackling will go home with the best looking girls. It just figures, either the Owls are going to have to keep a "Football fire in furnace" for four afternoons and one night a week from now on, or just forget about the week-by-week championships soon to come up. It's a real tough go, beginning with Pearsall. If you WANT to BE a champion, you have to PRACTICE like it during the week to make it routine on Friday nights . . . like National champion Oklahoma on TV last Saturday — what a bunch full of football desire they are. Their All-American Tom McDonald had to miss a PRACTICE session 2 or 3 weeks ago for the first time in his high school or college career and he was almost in tears! Hustling and attending to business on PRACTICE days is where you win championships . . . AND make a champion out of YOURSELF.

Publicity

Another thing Owls, and fans alike, had better recognize. Hondo now is listed high in the State Ratings, off their excellent record sure . . . and the record of the last two Owl teams) but NOT before some letters were written to the Associated Press calling some things to their attention. In other words, let's not get to believing everything we read in "ratings", etc. as actual fact. The way to MAINTAIN a top rating is to believe you're NOT as good as the paper says . . . JUST as good as you play each coming Friday night . . . and not the past Friday!

Hoots Take Carrizo Jrs.

Coach Bob Nations' Hoots got their first District win in three tries last Saturday night as they beat the Carrizo Springs Jrs. 28 to 0.

The Hoots got 21 points the first quarter with the first TD by Pilar Cantu covering a Carrizo attempted punt fumble over the goal line. Louis Schmitz was the Hoots' scoring gun, as he made three TDs and ran over 4 extra points to give him 22 points.

The Hoots' victory could be termed more of a team effort. They definitely worked better as a unit than in other games.

A few changes were made in the line-up as the injured Charles Neuman moved from the backfield to an end post. Billy Hardy took over at Center while Naegelin moved to end. Mike Moore hurt his shoulder so the backfield for the most part was composed of Cliff Sadler, Dale Lindeburg, Louis Schmitz and John R. Schuehle. The Hoots season record now stands at 2 wins and 2 losses.

D'Hanis Cowboys Win

The D'Hanis Cowboys took a six-man football contest from Tilden last Thursday night on Barry Field in a 32-25 thriller.

D'Hanis was, at one time, ahead 26 to 0 but Tilden came fighting back to a 26-25 count before D'Hanis got breathing room with a final TD on a 50 yard scoring scamper by Frank Ortega.

Ortega was the D'Hanis adding machine as he went for all the TD runs as follows: 34 yards, 15, 18, 5 (after a 55 yard kick-off return) and 50 yards. He is quick and did some fine running to get loose that often. Joe Langfeld made his presence known too . . . he runs the hardest of the D'Hanis backs. A good hard block by Joe was responsible for Ortega's second TD.

This was our first look at six-man football, and for a number of local fans. The game is fast and wide open and you certainly have to be in good shape with wind and legs to play it.

The D'Hanis Drum and Bugle Corps was real sharp too . . . they put on an excellent half-time show.

Muennink-Schulte

Jerry Muennink and Richard Schulte were back in Hondo this weekend. They are with the Texas University Shortorns and got in the game with the Baylor Cubs last Thursday night. Considering that about 60 or 65 freshmen are on the club with some sort of scholarship, both Jerry and Richard saw a fair amount of game time . . . and Jerry started off with a bang . . . getting a 15 yard roughing penalty!

HAB Golfers Participate In Tourney

Ladies of the Hondo Air Base Golf Club participated in a Blind Bogey Tourney Oct. 11. Mrs. Michael Ball placed first in A flight. Mrs. Frances C. Richter was the B flight winner and Mrs. Walter Ginstrom took honors in C flight.

An Alibi Tourney is on the schedule for Thursday, Oct. 18. This tourney is designed to bolster spirits of weary golfers by giving them an alibi stroke a hole without penalty! For further information, interested persons may call Mrs. Bernard Freedman, HA 6-2140 or Mrs. Henry Knight, HA 6-2383.

The number of lady golfers in Hondo has been steadily on the increase. Since the announcement of the forthcoming Ladies Championship Tourney, interest has grown even more. The tourney will be held in November, following the Mens' Championship Tournament. Ladies are reminded that they must have an established handicap to enter.

Beef Week Set For December 2-8

Beef Week in Texas this year will be Dec. 2 - 8. Texas Beef Council president Leo J. Welder announced today.

The week's activities will be marked by a major event in Fort Worth, home town of the Beef Council, and special activities in other cities throughout the state, the president said.

Point of purchase materials will be furnished to 7,000 food retailers, who will be encouraged to feature beef during the week, and special food features will be provided all newspapers, radio and television stations.

The Fort Worth Beef Supper, now a three-year tradition with the beef organization, will this year consist of a banquet for cattle and agricultural leaders. A feature of the evening will be a presentation to the Council of the Public Relations News award by Mrs. Denny Griswold of New York, publisher of the News.

The Beef Council was recently named one of the ten top public relations programs in the country.

Other principal speakers will be announced later, Welder said.

Owls Win From Devine Warhorses

Hondo's Owls racked up another victory Friday night, when they downed the Devine Warhorses 33-7 at Devine.

Although the game was better than the score sounded, Hondo was just a bit bigger and stronger than the Devine eleven.

The Owls received the opening kickoff, and neither team showed too much until about 9 minutes had ticked off the clock. After picking up three straight first downs, Devine lost possession of the ball when Butch Woolls intercepted a C. D. Shaw pass and returned it to the 29 yard line.

Johnny Windrow then took it to the 20 and Alvin Hartman to the 12. Ray Highsmith took over and on two plays worked it down to the 2 yard line with first and ten to go. Hartman then chose the quarterback sneak and plowed over with 2:56 remaining in the first quarter. Windrow kicked the extra point.

Hondo's kickoff was returned to the Devine 42 before a herd of Hondo tacklers hauled the ball carrier, Johnny Zapata, down. After three quick first down, Devine lost the ball when Jug Wiemers jumped on a fumble on the Hondo 25 yard line.

Highsmith took it to the 30, Windrow to the 36, Highsmith to the 46 for a first and ten to go, then ate up another three yards, leaving the ball on the Hondo 49 yard line. Woolls lost three on a second down attempt and Hartman completed a 19 yard pass on third down to Neuman. Woolls carried to the 25 and then Highsmith took it around right end for the TD with 7:57 remaining in the second quarter.

Hondo's kickoff was returned to the 34 yard line. After three downs, the ball rested on the 38 and Devine punted to the Hondo 30 before the ball was blown dead.

It was Highsmith again on this series of downs, as he took the ball from his own 46 and ran 25 yards through the middle of the Warhorse line to set up another Owl score. The TD came when Hartman threw a 19 yard pass to Neuman with 3:52 left in the second quarter. The extra point was blocked but a holding penalty against Devine brought the ball back for another try. This time, it was good but a 15 yard penalty against Hondo again brought the ball back for another try. This time, it was too short for the uprights and the score remained 20-0.

After Hondo's kickoff, Shaw warmed up his throwing arm, completing three passes out of four for a TD. The touchdown pass was to Bradford Bush for 30 yards and six points. The extra point was scored on a keeper play by Shaw. The half ended with Hondo in possession and the score reading 20-7.

Devine kicked off to start the second half. Woolls returned to the 20 yard line but had most of it rubbed out on a holding penalty. Working from the five yard line, the Owls managed for two first downs before losing the ball on a fumble by Woolls.

Devine worked for two first downs but lost the ball on the last series of downs on three straight incomplete passes. The Owls took over on their own 8 yard line and worked it out to their own 41 before Hartman hit Neuman on the Devine 44. Hartman then lost four and Highsmith carried the ball to the 43. Another completion to Neuman found the ball resting on Devine's 5 yard line and on the next play, Woolls carried over the left side of the line for an additional 6 points with 11:54 remaining in the fourth quarter. Windrow again converted making the score 27-7.

The final Owl touchdown came on a 45 yard drive with Windrow going over center from the 3 yard line. The final score read 33-7, Hondo over Devine.

Hondo had 21 first downs to Devine's 11 and 337 yards rushing to 76 for Devine. Hondo completed 6 of 13 passes for 135 yards and Devine completed 9 of 27 for 180 yards. Devine had two passes intercepted.

The Owls take it easy this week with an open date while Devine goes after Uvalde at Uvalde.

The October meeting of the Castroville 4-H Club was called to order by Ann Skarda, with 9 members, Mrs. Skarda, and Mrs. Strayhorn present. Barbara Haby led them in the 4-H pledge and motto.

The following officers were elected:

Judy Haby, president; Patsy Haass, vice-president; Ann Skarda, secretary; Ruth Bayer, treasurer; Barbara Haby, Council Delegate; and Gaila Stein, reporter.

Paul Haass Jr. has "two firsts" to his credit. He made the first touchdown of the season for the Wildcats, and he was the first and probably only boy to bake and ice a cake. He did it for the benefit of the Sophomore Class candidate for queen. He sold the cake to Miss Ruth Lawler, a member of the faculty, who graded it A plus.

St. Louis Comets Win 42-0 Saturday

The St. Louis Comets of Castroville turned in one of their best performances in years as they slaughtered a hapless herd of Shertz-Cibola Buffaloes by a score of 42 to 0 last Saturday night at Castroville. After losing to Schreiner last week, the Comet line was charging hard Saturday night as they tore gaping holes in the middle of visitor's defense. They were equally tough on defense, giving up only 40 yards and two first downs on the ground.

To pick out any Comet as really outstanding would be impossible, since it was entirely a team effort, with each boy doing his job whether it was blocking, running or defensive duties. Fine blocking on the part of the front line sprung backs Royce Groff, and Francis Lutz into enemy territory time after time from where both boys showed speed or big gains. Groff scored twice on runs of four and one yard and played his usual fine game, doing all the passing chores, which have shown much improvement over previous games.

Much of the running duties were shared with fullback Lutz, who with now three games under his belt at the fullback slot after being shifted from end, has come along fast to make the Comet single wing offense more devastating. He rolled up 170 yards in 21 carries for an impressive eight and average and three times took loose for touchdown jaunts of 15, 17 and 43 yards.

Much improvement was seen in the extra point department, as barefooted Arthur Espino kicked four out of five extra points before unfortunately wrenching his trick knee on the fifth point after touchdown try.

The game started off quiet enough. Neither team was able to move in their first try and exchanged punts. On their second series of downs, the Buffaloes tried the aerial route but had their first try intercepted by Rodney Tschirhart on the Comet 33. This time the combination of Lutz and Groff began rolling up the middle and in 14 plays they had eaten up the necessary yardage. Lutz made the last 13 yards, going off right guard and shaking off would be tacklers in the secondary. Espino's kick was good and the Comets moved in front 7 to 0 as the first quarter ended.

The Comet linemen again stopped the visitors cold and forced them to punt. The Comets, however, fumbled away this scoring opportunity on the Shertz-Cibola 15 yard line. Russ Goodwine, Buffalo quarterback, again took to the air, hitting right end, Julius Taubert, for 20 yards. On the next play, the visitors handed the ball back to the Comets via a fumble which was gathered in by Dennis Haby.

Starting from the Shertz 37 yard line, the Castrovillians needed only six plays to reach paydirt. This time it was Groff who plowed over from the 4. Espino's kick was good.

With just a few minutes left in the half, Goodwine passed, hitting Taubert again. Two plays later, Comet defenses cranked through and chased Goodwine 27 yards behind the line of scrimmage. The Buffaloes gambled on fourth down and lost the ball. Six plays later, Lutz took the ball on a spinner play, found his hole and went 16 yards for the third St. Louis score. Espino kicked number three and the Comets went out in front 21 to 0. With less than a minute left, the Comets tried an on-sides kick that worked but had only time enough for a couple of plays before the half ended.

St. Louis received to open the third quarter but stalled in mid-field. The Buffaloes gained to the Comet 41, the closest they got to the double strip all evening, son record.

but again lost the ball on downs. Again the Comets needed only six plays, with most of the yardage coming on a 43 yard run by Lutz to ring up his third and the Comets' fourth touchdown. Espino kicked number four.

Once again the Buffaloes fumbled with Lutz recovering this one. Passes from Groff to Steve Haby and Justin Jungman moved the ball down to the 10 and on a fourth down try Groff went over from the one. This time Espino missed and hurt his knee in the process.

Once more the Comet line kept the Buffaloes bottled up and Justin Jungman crashed through to block the punt. This time the scoring honors went to sophomore Bobby Tschirhart, his first touchdown for the year. The Comets soon were threatening again but fumbled on the 5.

Coach Harold Keller sent in his reserves and much to the delight of the home crowd, Gerald Jolzhaus, with the assistance of Bryan King and Stanley Keller, tackled Goodwine behind the goal for a safety.

In the waning minutes of the game, Bobby Tschirhart made a 30 yard run that almost went for another Comet touchdown. But there was no more scoring and the final count stood at 42 to 0. It was the biggest margin of victory for a Comet team in many years.

In the statistics department, the Comets gained 351 yards in 60 carries. They tried 12 passes and completed 4 for a total of 60 yards. They made 21 first downs. Schertz-Cibola picked up only 40 yards on the ground in 26 carries. They also tried 12 passes and completed 4 for 59 yards and had one intercepted.

This Saturday, the Comets play their third Academic League tilt, taking on the T. M. I. Panthers. The Comets have a 1-1 conference record and a 4-2 season record.
